No Goods or Services: What We Receive When We Give

Dovid Kopel

The custom in America, when you give צדקה (charity) as an official charitable donation, is that they give you a receipt saying that "no goods or services were exchanged for this donation." But isn't this the furthest thing from the truth? I get the זכות (merit) of giving to those in need. I get to fulfill a מצוה of walking in the ways of Hashem. I get to take the פרנסה (livelihood) I work hard for — but which Hashem ultimately gives me — and use these funds to provide for His other children: our brothers and sisters who have been given less.

As I looked through my emails for the donations I've given, for my taxes, I felt an overwhelming sense of responsibility to recognize this point: how much we truly receive when we give!

May none of us know poverty or need the help of others. I pray that each and every one of us always finds someone with a smile and an outstretched hand to help. Never feel ashamed — it is Hashem who gives you your needs, whether directly or indirectly. May we all go to sleep in a warm bed, with everything we need to do Hashem's will, and do it with a smile on our faces!
